

CHAPTER EIGHT

THE GESTURES OF MINOR LIMBS

The sages question.

1-2. Through your kindness we have heard in due order everything relating to the origin of the States (bhāva)¹ and Sentiments (rasa)².— We shall now like to know also what the experts say about the different kinds of Histrionic Representation, their meanings and different subdivisions.

3. O the blessed one, you are also to tell us accurately what kinds of Histrionic Representation are to be applied to which [places or occasions] by persons aiming at the Success.

Bharata answers.

4. On these words of the sages, Bharata spoke thus relating to the four kinds of Histrionic Representation.

5. "O sages, I shall now speak to you in detail so that the Histrionic Representation becomes properly explained to you.

¹We shall speak of [the fact that] the abhinaya (Histrionic Representation) is of four kinds. The question is, "Why is it called the abhinaya?" It is said in reply to this that the abhinaya is derived from the prefix abhi, and the verbal root nī meaning 'to cause to get' (to attain), and the suffix ac attached to these two. Hence a [full] answer to this should be made after a consideration of the root and its meaning.

There is a Śloka on this point :

6. As the root nī preceded by abhi means 'carrying the performances (prayoga) of a play [to the point of direct] ascertainment of its meaning,' so [the word made out of them] becomes abhinaya (carrying towards).

1-2 (B.G. same). ¹ See NŚ. VIII. ² See NŚ. VI.

The meaning of abhinaya

7. Abhinaya is so called because in the performance [of a play] it together with the Śākha¹, the Aṅga² and the Upāṅga³ explains the meaning of different [things].

The four kinds of abhinaya

8. O Brahmins, the Histrionic Representation of a play takes place in four ways, and on this (Representation) the plays of different types rest.

9. O Brahmins, this Histrionic Representation is known to be fourfold : Gestures¹ (āṅgyika), Words (vārika) Dresses and Make-up (ālārya) and the Temperament (sāttvika).

The Gesture : its three varieties

10. Of these, the Temperament has been described before, along with the States ; now listen first of all about the Gestures (āṅgyika).

11. The Gesture is of three kinds, viz. that of the limbs (śārīra), that of the face (mukhaja) and that related to [different], movements of the entire body (ceṣṭākṛta) including the Śākhā, the Aṅga and the Upāṅga.

12. Dramatic performance in its entirety relates to the six limbs including the major and the minor ones such as head, hands, lips, breast, sides and feet.

13. The six major limbs (uṇḍa) are head, hands, breast, sides, waist and feet, and the (six) minor limbs (upāṅga) are eyes, eyebrows, nose, lower lip and chin.

7 (B.8, G.7). ¹ See 15 below. See 13 below. ³ See 13 below.

8 (B.9, G.8).

9 (B.10, G.9). ¹ More properly 'gestures and postures.'

10 (B.11, G.10). 11 (B.12, G.11). 12 (B.13, G.12).

13 (B.14, G.13).

14. Producers of plays should reckon the Śākhā, dance (nr̥tta) and the Aṅkura as the three aspects of the Histrionic Representation (abhinaya).

15. The gestures (āṅgika) are called the Śākhā;¹ pantomining through them is the Aṅkura² and that which is based on the Karāṇas³ and consists of the Aṅgahāras⁴ is called dance (nr̥tta).

16. O Brahmins, listen first of all about the different gestures of the head, which are included in the facial gestures and which support many Sentiments (rasa) and States (bhāva).

Gestures of the head and their uses *

17-18. The gesture of the head is of thirteen¹ kinds, viz. Ākampita, Kampita, Dhuta, Vidhuta, Parivāhita, Udvāhita, Avadhuta, Añcita, Nihañcita, Parāvṛtta, Utkṣipta, Adhogata, and Lolita.

19. Ākampita : Moving the head slowly up and down is called the Ākampita.

Kampita : When the movements in the Ākampita head are quick and copious the same is called Kampita¹.

20. (Uses) : The Ākampita head is to be applied in giving a hint, teaching, questioning, addressing in an ordinary way (lit. naturally), and giving an order¹.

14 (B.15, G.14).

15 (B.16, G.15). ¹ Śārṅgadeva defines the śākhā and aṅkura as follows :—यव शब्दोक्ति विख्याता विचित्रा करवर्त्तना । अङ्गुरो सूतोवाक्कायेमुपजीव्य प्रवर्त्तना । वर्त्तना सा भवेत् सूतो भाविवाक्कोपजीवनात् । SR. VII. 37-38).

From this we learn that the śākhā means the flourish of the gesticulating hand (kara-var̥tanā) preceding one's speech whereas the aṅkura means such a flourish following it.
